UOMA ESSIS X NETTA KANDELIN

Uoma explores artisan glass beyond its surface, approaching it as a material where form and craftsmanship meet in careful balance. Developed together with Netta Kandelin, the series of tables is rooted in experimental, material-driven design and the notion of rediscovering something familiar from a fresh perspective.

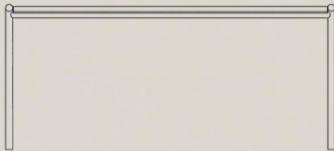

The collection's identity comes from the interplay between fluid, molten glass and a refined metal frame—where softness and strength exist side by side. Its shapes feel both recognisable and contemporary, combining honest materials, considered proportions, and a sense of timeless design in four complementary sizes.
